The Northwest Mosquito and Vector Control Association is accepting paper titles and abstracts for the upcoming NWMVCA Fall Meeting. Papers related to all aspects of mosquito and other vector control are welcome. This is a great opportunity to share your latest research findings and operational developments with vector control professionals in the Pacific Northwest and beyond! The venue is on the shores of Skaha Lake in the beautiful Okanagan valley, which offers world-class outdoor adventure, food and wines. Fall is a great time to be to be in Penticton, so don't miss this opportunity!

Please submit your title and abstract via email to: Matt Hutchinson at:
